

U.S. History Lessons

Recently I have started reading books written by people who actually KNOW what the United States of America and the true patriots, political leaders and “citizens” living there are all about. These books are written by some of America’s best and brightest... people who are great leaders of the nation, our veterans or historians who support our armed forces and nation to the hilt.

Lately there have been thousands of ass holes marching in the streets, people like Antifa and “the resistance”, and others dwelling behind “fake news” cameras or closed doors on America’s campuses or within some of the inner cities in the U.S.A. (all run by what I refer to as Marxist Libtard DEMONCRAPS). You can tell when a state or city is run by DEMONCRAPS simply by looking at the amount of corruption, squalor, stagnant economy, unemployment, soup lines, trash, shit and general level of sewer and swamp which exists all around in plain view on their watch. Parts of our county have been run in the ground by DEMONCRAPS and their socialist/communist central government agenda. And they ALWAYS refer to our system of government as a “democracy” which is their preferred version of mob rule.

Very few people, except the real patriots, now days will stand for our National Anthem (like we did when I was going to school) and honor our flag and way of life, which has only managed to continue thanks to the people (and thousands more like them) who have fought on battle fields near and far to keep America FREE and GREAT... right along with many other countries who would be ruled by dictators if it were not for these very same people.

So, who are these people; these patriots? Well they are the folks mentioned within the pages of and/or who wrote some of the following books. They are people most of us have heard about; like George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Abe Lincoln. And they are the real patriots of late who have been involved in more recent hard fought battles against terrorists like the Saddam Hussein family, the Taliban, and Al Qaeda; in far off places like Afghanistan and Iraq.

If you have half a brain, I would suggest you re-educate yourself about America by picking up some of the following books and actually reading them. Then, the next time you vote (if you vote) for an American politician, maybe you will stop voting for DEMONCRAPS like Obama or Clinton or Pelosi or Waters or Schumer or communists like Bernie Sanders and start voting for anyone else who will defend our country, our Constitution, our three branches of government and our heroes and our life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.
